Better golf starts with a Swing Evaluation. During this 60 minute golf lesson, you and your Coach discuss where your game is now and where you'd like it to be. Your Coach quantifies your golf swing with their Motion Measurement technology and video analysis, You will see real-time video and motion measurement simultaneously. When this is combined with the Coaches' expert guidance and knowledge that no "one" technique works for everyone, it's no wonder the 7 million golf lessons and counting have led to a 96% success rate for their students.

At GOLFTEC, they know what it takes to play your best golf. They use technology and facts – not opinion – to give customized golf lessons and club fittings that help their Students score lower and play consistently better. Their mission is simple - to Help People Play Better Golf. After 20 years of supporting that mission, they've taught more than seven million lessons to golfers of every handicap and skill level. With the average of seven strokes saved per round, they help students find confidence and have more fun on the golf course.
